

George Pub, London

40 Liverpool Street, London, EC2M 7QN

Quintessentially British, the George Pub is a rare step back in time. One of the crowning glories of the building's original architect, Colonel RW Edis, this is one of the finest reproductions of a 'Tudorbethan' interior in London. With its traditional oak-paneled walls and crafted ceiling, it's an old-fashioned treat. Take it all in with a pint and some good, high-quality comfort food. Offering beers, cider, wines and spirits, George is a great friend to have in the City, whether for informal drinks or as a resting spot when visiting, living or working around the bustling markets at Brick Lane, Spitalfields and Columbia Road. Live sports are screened here too!

Starters

Lentil and mushroom soup

~

Smoked salmon plate, beetroot & horseradish

~

Ham hock terrine, onion marmalade

Main Courses

Roast turkey, Brussels sprouts, roast parsnips & roast potatoes

~

Roast pumpkin risotto (V)

~

Seared salmon, spiced lentils, cauliflower puree

Puddings

Orange syllabub

~

Christmas pudding

~

Cheese platter

lastminute.com